FOREST CAMPING IN THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST REGION

YOUR NATIONAL FORESTS are managed for multiple use and sustained yield of all the renewable resources of the land, including water, wildlife, timber, forage, and outdoor recreation. All of these resources are vital to America's industry and people. To many people, outdoor recreation brings the only contact with their National Forests. Everyone benefits in some way from all of the National Forest resources; but millions of people know and love some favorite forest recreation spot — a fishing stream, a mountain trail, a forest campground, a secluded hunting area, a ski slope, a skyline drive, or a magnificent vista.

NATIONAL FOREST RECREATION contributes to the health and welfare of our Nation. The enjoyment of the out-of-doors, the relaxation, and the spiritual refreshment to be found in forest recreation cannot be measured in material terms; but their importance to the well-being of people is well recognized and accepted. The use of the National Forests for recreation is planned and developed to provide enjoyment for our growing population. Through planning and coordination with other uses, recreation becomes one of the important uses of the forests.

THIS DIRECTORY lists the features of developed campgrounds in the National Forests of the Pacific Northwest Region (Oregon and Washington). There are many other sites with little or no development which are open to campers.

A "family unit" usually includes parking space for a car and the use of a table and a fireplace or stove. The number of family units available for tent camping (TC), trailer camping (TrC), or picnicking (P) is shown for each recreation area. Overnight camps include tent space or trailer space. Picnic units usually do not provide space for overnight use.

The symbol "X" indicates that house-trailer space is not available because of rough and narrow access roads.

Campgrounds with developed wells or piped water systems are noted in this directory. Other campgrounds have water available from springs, lakes, or streams.

CAMPGROUND FEES

Most of the campgrounds listed in this directory are free of charge. However, for a few of the larger and more elaborate campgrounds there is a charge of $1.00 per day for overnight camping. The symbol for these charge campgrounds is "$" indicated in the "other facilities" column. To operate this simple, self-service charge system, follow these 5 easy steps:

1. Drive into campground and select a camp unit.
2. Return to vending machine and insert two 50-cent pieces in machine which dispenses a dated ticket.
3. Fill in back of ticket and insert it into ticket box at your camp unit.
4. If you do not have proper change, leave a note for attendant, who will contact you.
5. Tickets expire at 2 p.m. on day following purchase. New tickets can be purchased after 9 a.m. each day.

Picnicking, boat-launching, and any other day-use activities will remain free of charge.

Receipts from these charge campgrounds go into the United States Treasury. Twenty-five percent of the receipts is returned to the respective counties to be used for schools and roads.

OTHER CAMPGROUNDS MAY BE PLACED UNDER THE CHARGE SYSTEM BEFORE REVISION OF THIS DIRECTORY.

STAY LIMIT IN CAMPGROUNDS

To allow more people the opportunity of using some of the more popular campgrounds a 10- or 14-day stay limit has been placed in effect. Each campground so designated will be posted.

TRAILER CAMPING

Small house-trailers may be used in most campgrounds where overnight camping facilities are provided. The use of large trailers is discouraged, except in campgrounds having developed trailer-camping areas. In the majority of campgrounds, roads and parking areas are not designed for large trailers. Connections for electricity, sewage, and water are not provided in National Forest campgrounds.

Floating trailers or houseboats are not permitted on the National Forests.

OTHER FOREST RECREATION AREAS

In addition to the campgrounds and picnic grounds listed in this directory, there are many other areas that provide opportunities for recreation within the National Forests. These include:

WILD, WILDERNESS, AND PRIMITIVE AREAS

In Oregon and Washington there are fourteen of these areas, totaling more than 2,100,000 acres, which have been set aside to be maintained in a near-natural condition. Within these areas are many unimproved camp locations and unlimited opportunities for the more hardy camper. Because these areas were set aside to preserve the primitive conditions of transportation and environment, the use of motor vehicles and other motorized equipment is prohibited.

OBSERVATION SITES, NATURAL AREAS, SCENIC AREAS, GEOLOGICAL AREAS

Several of these areas in the Pacific Northwest Region afford views of outstanding scenery or the opportunity to observe unique forest stands or geological formations.

WINTER SPORTS SITES

There are 27 developed ski sites on the National Forests of the Pacific Northwest for the use and enjoyment of those who enjoy skiing or other winter sports.

STATE PARKS

Along the principal highways within the National Forests of Oregon and Washington are a number of campgrounds and picnic grounds maintained by the States. A nominal charge is made for overnight camping in these areas. Information regarding State camping may be obtained for Oregon by writing to the Travel Information Division, Oregon State Highway Department, Salem, Oregon 97310. For the State of Washington, information may be obtained from the State Parks and Recreation Commission, 522 South Franklin, Olympia, Washington 98502.

In addition to the parks maintained by the States, a number of camping and picnicking areas have been developed throughout the Pacific Northwest by counties and private landowners.

NATIONAL PARKS

Information is available on the three National Parks within the Region by writing to the addresses below:

Crater Lake National Park
Box 672, Medford, Oregon 97501

Olympic National Park
600 E. Park Avenue, Port Angeles, Washington 98362

Mt. Rainier National Park
Longmire, Washington 98397

RESORTS AND COMMERCIAL AREAS

In addition to the campgrounds and picnic grounds, many of the more popular National Forest recreation areas have resorts and other commercial sites which have been developed by private concessionaires to provide such services as lodges, cabins, restaurants, improved trailer parking, stores, service stations, boat rentals, horseback riding, and packing and guide services.

Additional information regarding any of these other forest recreation areas may be obtained by writing to the U.S. Forest Service, P.O. Box 3623, Portland, Oregon 97208, or by writing to the local Forest Supervisor.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES

Campfire permits are not required in the States of Oregon and Washington.

Remember these fire regulations:

1. NO SMOKING WHILE TRAVELING, EXCEPT IN VEHICLES ON ROADS.
2. WHEN YOU CAMP IN OTHER THAN IMPROVED CAMPGROUNDS, THE FOLLOWING TOOLS ARE REQUIRED:

AX, with handle not less than 26 inches long and head weighing 2 to 2-1/2 pounds.

SHOVEL, with handle not less than 36 inches long and blade 8 inches wide.

BUCKET, or other water container, with capacity of not less than one gallon.

(These tools are not required of hiking parties.)

Build fires only in safe or designated places. DO NOT LEAVE YOUR FIRE UN-ATTENDED FOR EVEN A FEW MINUTES. DO NOT POUR WATER ON A HOT FIRE-PLACE; IT CRACKS THE STRUCTURE.

Do not shoot fireworks anywhere in the forest. It is prohibited.

If you discover a fire burning unattended, put it out if you are able. If you cannot put it out, report the fire promptly to the nearest Forest Service station, the sheriff, or any telephone operator.

BOATING

Federal and State laws require the numbering and licensing of most boats. Be sure that you know and observe these regulations.

Suggestions for safe boating:

1. Do not use gasoline stoves, heaters, or lights on board. Use caution to prevent fires while refueling.
2. Do not overload your boat.
3. Be especially careful when operating in the vicinity of swimmers.
4. Observe all boating speed limits and "rules of the road".
5. Have children wear life jackets. The law requires a life preserver or jacket approved by the Coast Guard for each person on board your boat.
6. Water skiing is permitted on many National Forest lakes. Ride with two persons in the boat in order to maintain a proper lookout; and be sure you are well clear of other boats, swimmers, or obstructions.
7. Know what to do in case of emergency. In case you capsize, remember that, if your boat continues to float, it is usually best to remain with it until assistance comes.

AVOID BECOMING LOST

Searching for lost persons is costly and often hazardous to the searchers. Getting lost is usually avoidable.

Before taking a trip in the mountains, it is a good practice to inform someone of your planned route and approximate schedule. Be properly clothed and equipped.

It is a good practice to carry a map and a compass when traveling in areas with which you are not well acquainted. Many woodsmen and foresters always carry these aids, even in country well known to them; for fog and stormy weather can suddenly obscure familiar landmarks. Maps are available without charge at Ranger Stations and Supervisors' headquarters.

If you become lost or injured, REMAIN CALM and STAY WHERE YOU ARE. Remember the figure "3". This is an international distress signal. Three blasts on a whistle, three regulated puffs of smoke, three shots from a gun, or three flashes of a mirror or flashlight, repeated regularly, will bring assistance. The rescue party will answer with two signals. Repeat your distress signal until you are found.

If you must use a signal fire, be sure to clean away the duff and ground litter to mineral soil. Extinguish the fire before you leave.

The rule of three signals is used Nationwide and should never be used except when you are in actual need of help.

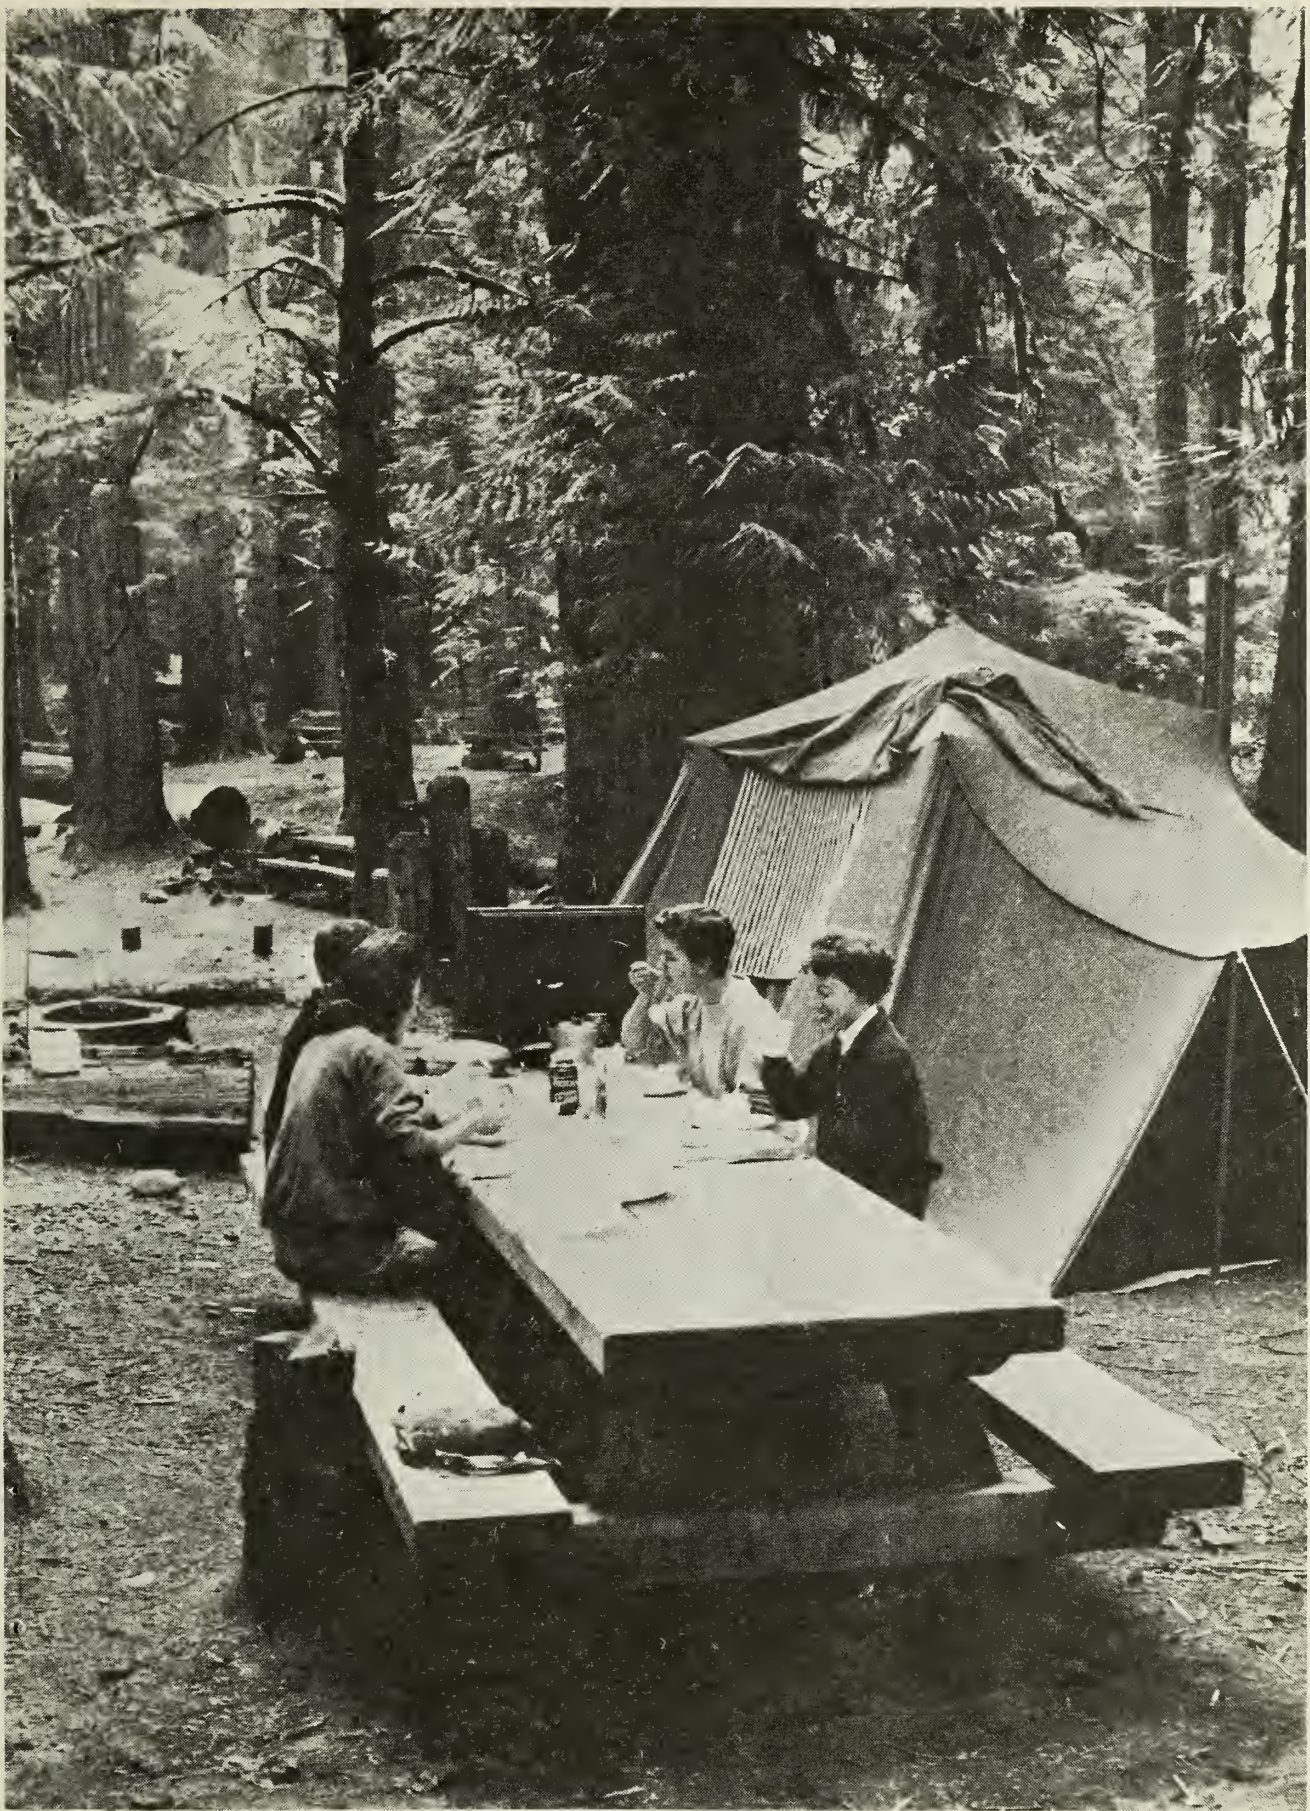

BE A GOOD CAMPER

The facilities in the National Forest campgrounds have been provided with public funds. Help protect them from fire and vandalism. Be a good camper. Please practice the following suggestions:

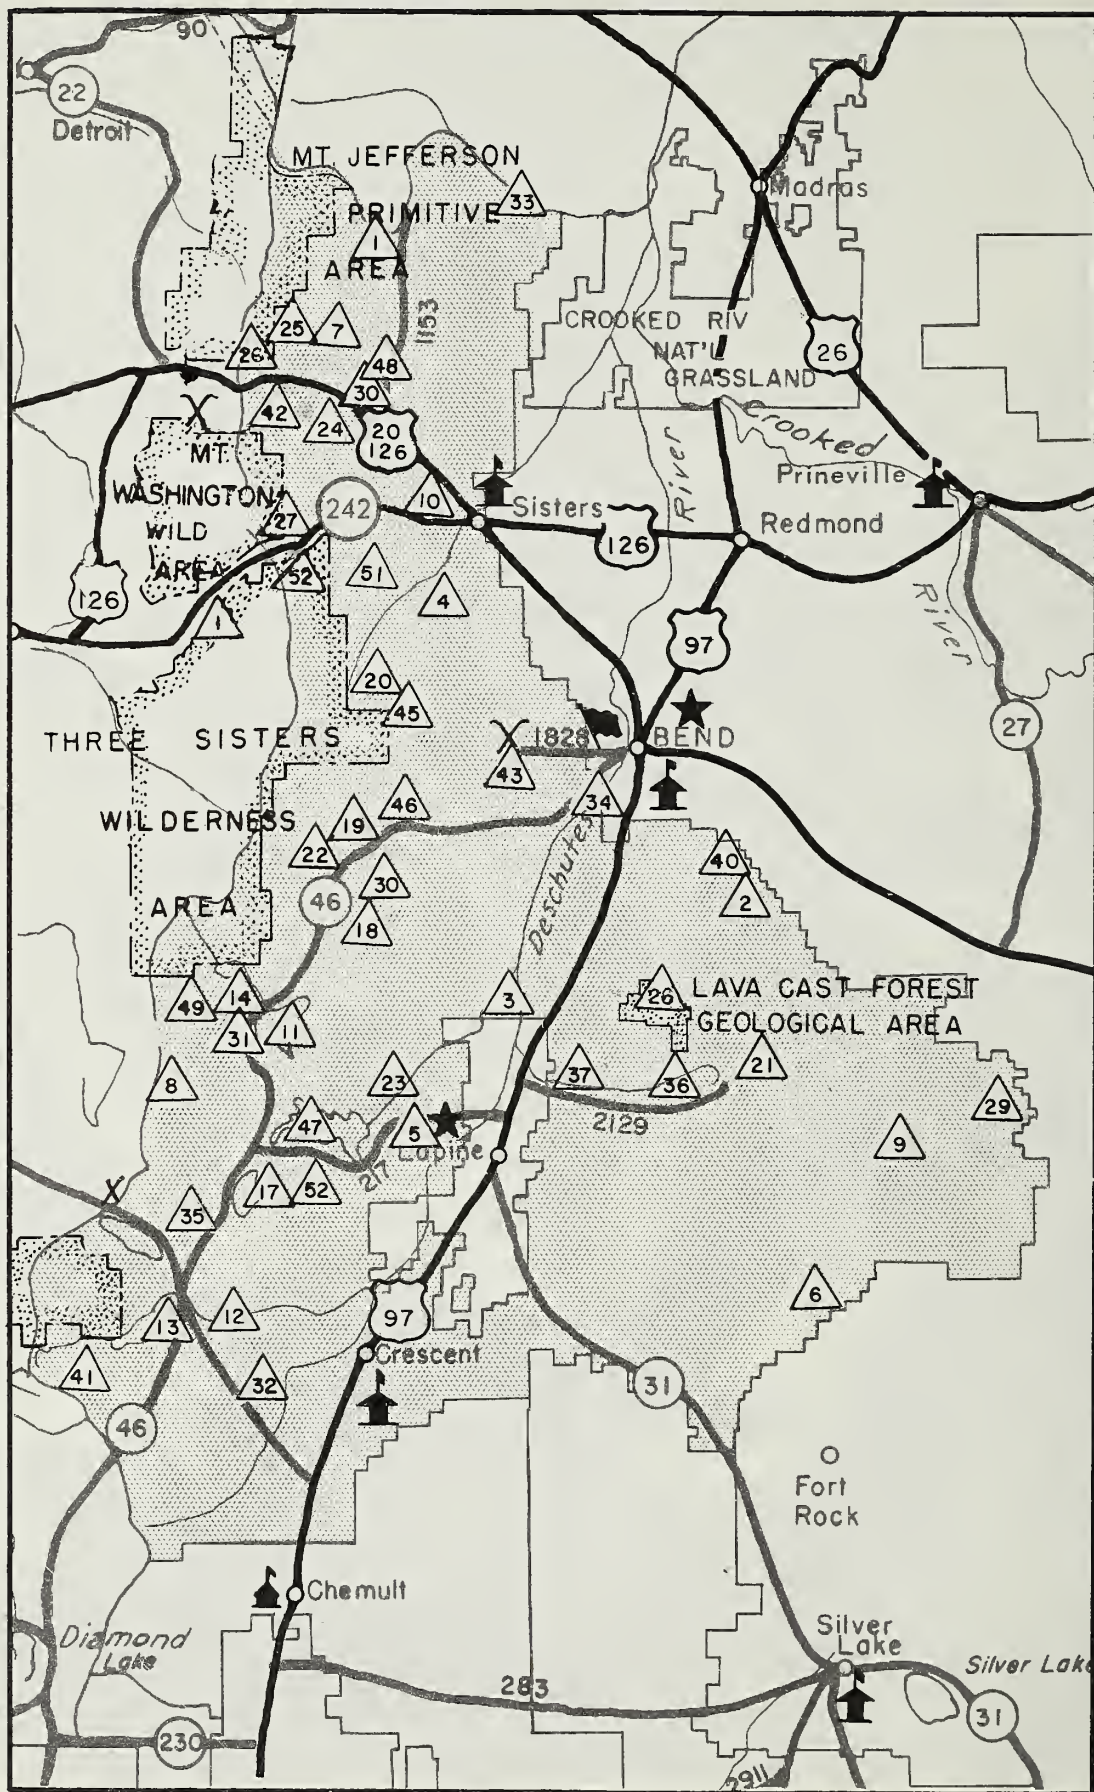

1. Burn all refuse possible and place the remainder in garbage receptacle. If you are camping in an unimproved camp, please take home bottles, cans, and other litter that cannot be burned.
2. Keep signs, buildings, tables, toilets, and other facilities in good condition. Protect them from damage.
3. Refrain from digging flowers, plants, ferns, or moss in or near any campground or picnic ground. Cutting of green trees, poles, or boughs, or chipping bark on trees is not permitted.
4. Do not clean fish or wash clothes in lakes or streams.
5. Dogs are permitted, but be considerate of other campers and keep your dog under control.
6. Do not shoot firearms within or near any campground.

Smokey Says:

1. CRUSH YOUR SMOKES
2. BREAK YOUR MATCHES IN TWO
3. DROWN YOUR CAMPFIRE
4. BE CAREFUL WITH EVERY FIRE

Campers enjoy La Wis Wis Campground on the Gifford Pinchot National Forest in a setting of unusually large Douglas-fir, hemlock, and cedar.
